

Curriculum vitae

Prof. Dr. med. Konrad Brockmeier

- Graduation in medicine 1983, Doctor of Medicine (MD) 1985 - Free University in Berlin (West), Germany
- Internship in Child Health: "Kaiserin Auguste Victoria Haus" (Free Univ. Berlin, Germany)
- Child Health Diploma 1993
- Paediatric Cardiology Fellowship and Diploma in 1997, Free Univ. Berlin, Germany
- PhD thesis (Priv.-Doz. Dr. med.), 2001 University of Heidelberg
- Research fellow: Institute of solid state physics of the Consiglio Nazionale delle Ricerche (CNR), Rome, Italy. Topic: Magnetocardiographic and electrocardiographic signals. Funded by a grant of the Europ. Commission (1990-1991);
- Research fellow: National Inst. of Physics, Berlin, Germany (PTB): Dept. of data acquisition and signal processing, 1992 and 1993.
- Certified adult congenital heart specialist (GUCH)

Health care in pediatric cardiology in Berlin since 1985, "Kaiserin Auguste Victoria Haus", children's hospital, Free Univ. Berlin and as a consultant in paediatric cardiology since 1995 at the Charité, Berlin, Germany

1997 University of Heidelberg, Germany, dept. of paediatric cardiology. Major interest and responsibility in catheter diagnostics and interventional procedures in newborns, children and adolescents

Since October 2002 professor of pediatrics and director of the dept. of pediatric cardiology, University of Cologne, Germany

- Member of the board of directors Int. Soc. Computerized Electrocardiology (ISCE.org)
- Member of the council of the Ass. for Europ. Paediatric Cardiology (AEPC.org)